SHOCKED

WAS THIS COMMUNITY WHEN IT WAS TOLD JOHN SAMUELS WAS DEAD.

A Good Man Bears His Sorrows
As Long As He Can

And Then Lays Down the Burden.

A Noble and Useful Man Gone.

When it was noised abroad on Saturday morning that John Samuels had taken his own life, the community received a shock, such as it has seldom experienced. For twenty-eight years Mr. Samuels has been closely and largely identified with the business interests of Mt. Sterling. His long career as a business man brought him into close contact with our people and his upright life and generous deeds won for him a place in their affections, few men are fortunate enough to secure.

THE PARTICULARS
As we gather them, seem to indicate that since the loss of his oldest son, Frank, who suffered death by a railroad accident, that he has not been the man he was before, and when the present financial distress overtook the country, he appeared to be more un-nerved and more solicitous about the outcome than the situation would seem to warrant. His business affairs, which were in probably no worse condition than the majority of those around him, gave him great distress of mind. Kind friends able and willing to help him in any way, finding him in such condition, came to him with offers of aid; tried to assure him that his financial condition was not such as he deemed it. But all in vain. His family has for nearly two weeks, kept a close watch on him and all the night before the tragedy his faithful wife watched him; but about 4 o'clock she fell a sleep for a few minutes, thinking he too was sleeping; and he seized the opportunity to quietly dress and escape from the house. The wife soon awakened and instituted search for him. He had gone out of the house and was seen going in the direction of his store by a negro man, others saw him quietly walking up Main street, but he proceeded toward the pool near the New West Distillery, where he evidently for a few moments, sat upon the edge and then made the fatal plunge. The water of the pool is from six to eight feet deep, and his body floated around it, a supply pipe, which bore it up where it was found only a short time after he had entered the water by a negro man, who was going to his work. The alarm was given, but life was extinct when the body was taken from the water. The body was removed to Eastlin's undertaking rooms where Esquire Henry Jones, in the absence of the Coroner, impounded a jury and held an inquest. The jury, after hearing all the evidence, gave a verdict in accordance with above facts.

The pure, manly, upright life John Samuels lived among this people, won for him their esteem as few men have been fortunate enough to enjoy it, and the hearts of the people, as one heart, beat in sympathy with the bereaved family. It is useless to pile up adjectives to tell how devoted a father, how loving a husband, how true a friend he was. This community knew him and loved him. God chose that he should suffer much, but no man was oppressed with his sorrows. He bore them and showed to his fellowmen only a shining, cheerful face always. The burden at last became too heavy, and the mind gave way under the strain, and God took him.

His funeral sermon was preached, on Sunday afternoon, by his friend, Dr. R. Hiner, of Carrollton, who paid a glowing tribute to his rarely beautiful character. The entire community turned out to do the last office: for one that had been so beloved by all who knew him.

The Washington correspondent in the Courier-Journal states that the Associated Press dispatches are incorrect in reporting a majority in the Senate to be against the repeal of the purchasing Sherman act. A majority, he declares, are in favor of repeal, and the policy of the opponents of repeal is to defeat a vote by obstruction methods. The advocates of the Wilson Repeal Bill, which that morning reaches the Senate, after having passed the house, propose to bring legislation in the lower body to a standstill until the upper house shall take action on it, thus throwing the responsibility for the pressing financial distress where it will belong.

The Administration and the friends of unconditional repeal of the purchasing clause of the Sherman act won a victory in the Senate Finance Committee meeting Thursday. Senator Voorhees, the Chairman of the committee, voted for unconditional repeal, coupled with a declaration in favor of bimetallism—his vote enabling the members advocating repeal to decide by a majority of one that the committee shall favorably report a bill similar to the Wilson bill in the House. The minority voting against the repeal consists of Senators Harris, Vest, Vance, Jones, of Arkansas, and Jones, of Nevada.

A stockholder of the Northern Pacific railroad has retained counsel to bring suit against Henry Villard, Edwin H. Abbott, Charles T. Colby, and Colgate Hoyt, of the Northern Pacific directory. The allegation is to be made that they bought for the railroad company properties belonging to themselves, thus realizing as individuals $10,000,000 profits, while the railroad lost heavily. Mr. Villard denies the charges.

Charles S. O'Farrell was Thursday nominated for Governor by the Virginia Democratic convention, and R. C. Kent for Lieutenant Governor.

A QUEER THING.

A Payment in Gold of $7,000
Don't Weigh Out But $5,000.

A rather amusing, and a serious incident happened to Mr. Richard Gentry recently. The Richmond Climax tells the story as follows: Richard Gentry, of Boyle county, sold to Byrd Kidd, of Clark county, fat cattle to the amount of $7,000. Kidd gave Gentry a check on the Winchester bank. Gentry deposited the check in a Danville bank for collection. The Danville bank sent the check to a Cincinnati bank for collection. The Cincinnati bank returned the check to Danville refusing to credit Danville and charge Winchester. Gentry went in person to Winchester to collect the check. The Winchester bank felt more or less hurt at the Cincinnati bank, and at the same time desired to everlastingly quiet Gentry's fears, so it produced three bags of gold and handed them over to Gentry, saying they contained the exact sum and to count it was unnecessary. The gold was sent by express to the Cincinnati bank, which weighed it and found it $1,200 short! The coins counted out accurately at their face value, but were lacking in weight. Bankers say that the Winchester bank must pay Gentry the difference. It does seem that the Government ought to redeem the gold at its face value, but the Government says that would be putting a premium on the ancient crime of sweating or clipping, which, in England could not be suppressed by the death penalty, but by weighing instead of counting the money.

Since silver money is intrinsically worth only about 80 per cent, and paper money worth more than either gold or silver, what is the ordinary mortal to do, since gold has developed an ability to drop 15 or 20 per cent, even when coming from the bankers.

FINANCE

STILL THE ABSORBING TOPIC AT WASHINGTON AS ELSE-WHERE.

The Seal Ring Gets More Out of the Bering Sea Arbitration

Than Either the United States or Great Britain.

Hill's Bill for the Repeal of the Election Laws.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 20, 1893. Senator Voorhees tumbled down a good many imaginary structures when he asked and obtained the consent of the Senate for the Finance Committee to hold daily meetings while the Senate is in session, in order to consider and report a financial bill. A number of industrious liars have been working double time to create the impression that Senator Voorhees and the other Democratic members of this committee were purposely delaying the consideration by the committee of financial bills that have been introduced. The facts speak for themselves and need no comment.

Senate is now considering the bill favorably reported by the Finance committee and endorsed by Secretary Carlisle, authorizing National banks to issue currency to the full amount of bonds they have deposited to secure the same. Senator Cockerell has proposed several amendments to the bill, because of his belief that the National banks already enjoy too many privileges. But inasmuch as the country is greatly in need of the additional currency which would at once be put in circulation were the bill a law, there is little doubt that it will be passed without material amendment.

The House has another week of silver debate ahead of it before the voting begins. The unconditional repeal men appear to grow more confident of the result, although they admit if the rumor which is current, that forty or fifty of the Republicans have agreed to vote with the silver men for the amendment providing for the free coinage of silver at a rate of 20 to 1, shall prove to be true they will be defeated and the amendment adopted. The rumor, however, appears to have a very slender foundation, as Representative Bland, the silver leader, says he knows nothing about any such arrangement and does not believe it exists, and ex-Speaker Reed says the Republicans of the House, with less than twenty exceptions, will vote for unconditional repeal.

Members of the administration were not surprised at the result of the Behring Sea arbitration, hints of the probable outcome having been received in advance of the decision. Nor are they disappointed, as the United States came out of it quite as well as they expected. The fact is that the present administration has never enticed over this particular arbitration, and had it not found the whole business arranged for when it assumed office something would have been done in accordance with its own ideas. The decision will, of course, be accepted by this Government as final, and advice from London bring the same assurance from the British Government, so that the long and troublesome dispute may be considered as at an end, and the advantages gained by the arbitration as about six points in favor of Great Britain to four in favor of the United States. A Congressman speaking of the matter said: "It seems to me that the rich seal ring gets more out of the arbitration than either the United States or Great Britain, as the prohibition of the use of firearms in sealing gives that ring a stronger hold than ever upon the business. The only people who still use the spear in sealing are the native Alaskans who are in the employ of the seal ring, so you can imagine what the prohibition of fire-arms means to the ring."

Representative Grosvenor, of Ohio, appears to be in a bad way. He claimed in a speech made in the House this week that President Cleveland's message to Congress was an appeal to partisanship. Many things have been said about the message, but so far Grosvenor is the only man who has been able to see partisanship in it. During the Harrison administration Grosvenor had to be sent to Europe on a Government mission to keep him out of mischief, and it is a great pity that he cannot now be sent somewhere to remain until the financial question is disposed of.

Senator Hill this week introduced a bill for the repeal of the Federal election laws. It is short and to the point, and will in due time be passed.

Speaker Crisp says, and there is certainly no better authority, that all the talk about this or that man for the chairmanship of this or that important House committee is pure guess work. He has not made up his own mind, consequently it would be an impossibility for anybody to say what he intends doing. As soon as he gets the members satisfactorily assigned the committee will be announced.

It has been stated here this week that President Cleveland was unalterably opposed to any compromise and desired Congress to either unconditionally repeal the purchasing clause of the Sherman law or to let it alone. Your correspondent vainly endeavored to find a Democratic Senator or Representative who had personal knowledge that such are Mr. Cleveland's sentiments. That he would prefer unconditional repeal is certain; but that he would veto conditional repeal I do not believe.

GONE UP IN SMOKE.

John Dabney's Beautiful Suburban Home is Destroyed by Fire.

On Friday afternoon, about 2 o'clock, the alarm called out the fire brigade. It was found that the beautiful suburban home of John Dabney, situated on the Winchester pike, was being rapidly consumed. The distance was so great and the fire had gotten under such headway before an alarm was given that the house was almost a total loss.

The fire company did splendid work, but nothing could save the residence. The fire originated from a defective fuse and had made considerable advancement when it was discovered. A very large part of the household goods were lost, and what little was saved was in a damaged condition.

The house and furniture was insured for $8,000 in J. O. Miller's Insurance agency, of this city.

Our Marcus.

It is hard to tell what man will make a good member of Congress until he is tried, as nine out of ten prove dismal failures; but if there is anything in present indications Congressman M. C. Carlisle, of the Tenth Kentucky district, is going to make a first-class member of the House. He is active and earnest in the discharge of his duties and constantly at work.

—Washington Cor. in Courier Journal.

Released From Jail.

Farmer Hawkins, of Mt. Sterling, came over Friday and paid the balance (about $600) of N. H. Watkins' fine for selling (against the law) alcoholic beverages at Olympia. Mr. Watkins, who was in jail here, was released and he returned to his saloon business in Mt. Sterling.—Owingsville Outlook.

The army worm has made its appearance in the corn fields in the Mississippi and Arkansas river bottoms, causing the farmers much uneasiness.

AN UNPROVOKED MURDER.

Ed. Morton Shoots Will Wilton to Death—Both Parties Negroes.

THE MURDERER ESCAPES.

Ed. Morton, a bad negro, shot and killed a negro boy, Will Wilton, 16 years of age, on Saturday night, near Grassy Lick. Both parties lived in the neighborhood and had been to a negro festival. The shooting happened about 2 o'clock at night as the two, in company with several other negroes, were on their way home, and seems to have been totally unprovoked. The facts, as we have gathered them, are about as follows:

Some few nights since Mr. Palmer, a gentleman of that neighborhood, heard a noise under his house, and coming out, he was unable to ascertain what it was till he fired a pistol shot in the direction of where he had located the sound, and a negro, a brother of Ed. Morton, at once let himself be known and crawled out. While the negroes were returning from the above mentioned festival, some one of the party brought up the matter and Morton said he would kill anyone who said his brother was at Palmer's. The boy Wilton answered, "you will have to kill me then, for I say he was there." Without a word Morton pulled a 42-calibre bull-dog pistol and fired, striking Wilton in the heart. The murderer made his escape, and at this writing has not been apprehended. Esquire John W. Morris held an inquest in the absence of the Coroner.

No Rest For God or Man.

A preacher at Lafayette, Ind., is reported to have about broken up his church the other day by saying in a sermon that "God made the earth in six days and then He rested; then He made man and rested again; then He made woman, and since that time neither God nor man has had any rest." When the Board of World's Fair Lady Managers adjourn it ought to meet at Lafayette, in the immediate vicinity of the church of this reverend wretch.—Courier-Journal.

A Pretty Experiment.
Take a leaf of a tree or shrub, place over it a piece of white linen soaked in spirits of nitre, and insert between the leaves of a heavy book with a sheet of paper to receive the impression. Lay the book aside for a few days, and then examine. The leaf will be found devoid of color, which will have been transferred to the paper in all the original beauty of tint and outline of the leaf. So says one who tried the experiment.

The exports of specie from the port of New York for the week ending Saturday were $204,600, all of which were silver. Of this amount $255,000 went to Europe and $9,600 to South America. The imports of specie at the port of New York for the week were $11,253,000, of which $11,249,760 was gold and $4,246 silver. The gold consisted of $8,433,894 American gold coin, $1,652,098 foreign gold coin and $1,162,168.

Jennie James Hansford, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Smith Hansford, died of diphtheria at the home of her parents on College street, on Tuesday evening, at 7 o'clock, aged four years, nine months and fourteen days. Services were held at the grave in Spring Hill cemetery yesterday morning at 3 o'clock. She was the life and light of the home and the idol of her parents, who have the sympathy of many friends in their dark hours.—Hardsburg.

The news of little Jennie's death came here in a telegram to Mr. W. P. Oldham, Mrs. Hansford's brother, on Wednesday morning. Many indeed, were the expressions of sorrow when it was known to Mrs. Hansford's friends (and they are legion) that death had robbed her of her only child.

It is supposed that a man has taken a painful disease from a penholder held in his lips at a Boston club of prominence. The petition recently presented in Parliament praying for the pensioning of super-annuated public school teachers, casts a side light on the social condition of Great Britain. In the United States the standard of wages that rules generally, has made such action unnecessary. Nearly every country in Europe, however, has deemed it a matter of humanity to make statutory provision for the declining years of those who have devoted the best part of their lives to the public education of the young. The petition presented to Parliament is signed by more than 60,000 persons over 35,000 of whom are teachers themselves.

The decision in the Berling Sea case was handed down at Paris Tuesday by Baron Courcel, President of the tribunal. The points contended for by the United States were all decided in favor of Great Britain, it held that Russia had not exercised exclusive jurisdiction in the sea or any exclusive rights to the seal fisheries therein, beyond the ordinary limit of territorial waters at the time of the cession of Alaska to the United States; that the Berling Sea was included in the phrase "Pacific Ocean," and the United States have no right to the protection of property in the seals frequenting the islands of the U. S. and Berling Sea, when the same are found outside of three-mile limit. Justice Harlan and ex-Secretary Foster both claim, however, that the regulations specified by the tribunal will check peacable sailing, and go far toward accomplishing one of the chief aims of the country, declaring that the general result was far in advance of anything that the United States had demanded.

The Mystery of the Viking Ships.

The mystery of the Viking ships is now passing away, owing to the discovery of their remains during this century. In 1807 a good-sized ship was discovered near Sarpsborg, while in 1882, there was dug out of a burial mound at Gokstad, near Christiania, the entire remains of a Viking ship, with most of her equipments in a good state of preservation. She was 78 feet long, 164 feet wide, and built entirely of oak. The prow and stern were richly decorated and handsomely carved. She had ports for sixteen oars on a side, many of which remained in good order, as the warriors' shields were also well preserved. Among the articles found were cauldrons, a copper caldron, a sled, a fine bridle, and the anchor and stock with its long cable. There were also extra masts and spars, the ship's water tub, and an osken bedstead for the use of the Viking's commander.

The ship was evidently the burial tomb of its great captain, for the bones of his horses and dogs lay beside it; and strangest thing of all to relate, the bones of the viking himself, a man of gigantic size, six feet three and a half inches tall, were found in a covered place amidships. There was nothing to show, however, whether the great chief died in battle defending his own fireside, or whether, wounded in one of his own terrible forays, he had been brought home for burial; but certain it is that for one thousand years he had lain there with his favorite war-horses and hunting-dogs beside his good ship, whose prow turned toward the sea, was ready at Odin's trumpet call to launch forth once more to other deeds of valor and glory.—St. Nicholas.

The "fads" of society are on the increase. They seem to be trivial, but they are not. Every movement has its consequences. The "fad" of beer drinking may look trivial. It is followed by the "fad" of kidney disease, as a direct consequence. And that is not trivial. That means the grave and is solemn. The situation would be truly alarming and threaten the extinction of the race were it not for two things.

1. There is always hope of reformation in the hearts of the people. When the dangerous increase of kidney disease is sufficiently sounded, there will be reform. This will assure future generations.

2. As to the afflicted of to-day, a knowledge of Dr. Penner's Kidney and Backache Cure will restore all who are afflicted enough to resort to its use before it is too late. Also cures female weakness, heart disease, rheumatism and all blood diseases. It will neither deceive nor disappoint. If in need take a bottle home with you to-day. Delays are dangerous. The World's Fair and American Railways.

The Queen & Crescent Route widely known as the road running the "Finest Trains in the South," is in the field to carry everybody from the South to the World's Fair at Chicago. No part of the Southern country is left uncared for by this great railway and its connections. The Through Car System is an admirable exposition of the wonderful capabilities of American railroading. From Shreveport, Vicksburg and Jackson another Through Sleeping Car Line comes to join and become a part of the magnificent Vestibuled Through Trains which passing through Birmingham and the famous Wills Valley of Alabama, is joined at Chattanooga by the train from Jacksonville, Fla., Brunswick, and Atlanta, Ga., over the E. T. V. & Ga. railroad, and proceeds north over the beautiful Cincinnati Southern, through the grandest natural scenery and most attractive historical country in the South to Oklahoma, where another magnificent Pullman car is received, coming from the Richmond & Danville System from Charleston, S. C., through Columbia, S. C., the beautiful French Broad country, and Asheville, N. C. and Knoxville, Tenn.

The time to Chicago is made so as afford the most convenient hours for departures from the principal cities and arrivals in Chicago.

Passengers can purchase tickets good over one line north of the river, and returning via another if they desire a variable route without extra charge. Or they can go via Cincinnati, returning via Louisville, or vice versa.

The editor of the Sentinel-Democrat seems inclined to take us to task because we want CLEAR candidates for Representative and County Superintendent of Schools. He "is moved to remark":

"In these times the field is pretty well made up, and if the Advocate knows of any 'unclean spirits' mungwumpskickers, bolters or scratchers it is his duty to 'call a spade a spade' and let the Democratic party know them. We don't know what the Advocate means by the 'better element of Democracy.' If a man is a good Democrat his record will show it, and whether he is a 'blue-blood' or an honest, hard-headed son of toil, his Democratic record will show it. We regard our opponent, Judge French, as a clever gentleman, and we have no mean intentions to throw at him or at any of the candidates for School Superintendent. So far as we know they are all nice people, and any one of them is 'clear' enough to successfully unite the Democratic party, if nominated."

At the time the ADVOCATE published the article referred to the field was not made up. The Democrats of Menefee, as they were fully entitled to do, since at that time met in convention and endorsed W. C. French as their Representative. Now, we do not have the pleasure of a personal acquaintance with Mr. Taylor, but we are informed he is an exceedingly clever gentleman and a sterling Democrat. We are glad to know this, for if it should become our duty to support him at the November election, we can do so with an earnestness born of the conviction, he is worthy of the position to which he aspires. We too, "regard" * * * Judge French as a clever gentleman, and have no mean intentions to throw at him" or at Mr. Cassity or Mr. Taylor or any other Democrat who may announce himself as a candidate before the party for its endorsement for Representative. We say, and we emphasize the fact: we want the Democracy of this district to select the very "best" and most capable man the party can find—he from Montgomery or Menefee—and when the wisdom of the party has been exercised, therewith will we be content. Again the editor of the Sentinel-Democrat "is moved to remark":

"Unless the ADVOCATE pleads ignorance it must have known that there can be no Republican candidate for School Superintendent, as the examination day has 'passed.'"

The ADVOCATE declines to plead ignorance and could not "have known," nor does it yet know "that there can be no Republican candidate for School Superintendent as the examination day has 'passed.'"

Brother Sammy, just possess your soul in patience. We are not in the "mean filing" business just now; don't enjoy it; don't want to engage in it at any time; have no end to gain or debt to pay by doing any Democrat a mean-spirited and least of all we intend to do you a mean-spirited; but we shall be moved to remark anything, at any time, that we shall think to be for the best interests of the party with which we affiliate and to which we owe allegiance.

The people of Little Rock, Ark., did the decent press a service when they kicked out of a town one of those black-guard scribblers whose notions of journalism are on the scraggy order. Newspapers have gone as far as they dare go, and further than they should have gone, in their invasion of private life.—Courier-Journal.

It is indeed high time a halt was being called on the action of a certain or uncertain class of would-be newsgatherers, in their wild scramble for the sensational. We would be glad to see such a healthy public sentiment grow up and assert itself, as would create a nice distinction in the press as to what is news and what is a private affair.

A good-sized healthy kick on the part of the better class of newspaper readers against the amount of space given in many otherwise respectable journals to a very shady class of articles after the Breckinridge-Pollard and Howerton-Kay case, would probably bring about a much needed reform in this direction also.

Democrats of the district composed of Jessamine, Scott and Woodford Thursday nominated Mr. Henry L. Martin, of Woodford, by acclamation for State Senator.

SURPLUS SILVER.

Colorado's Opportunity (?) to Get Rid of Her Product.

A dispatch to the dailies from Aspen, Col., says:

Ex-Senator L. Smith, and Chairman of the Finance Committee of the French Senate, just left Aspen for Park City, Utah. The object of his trip here was to look into the silver producing regions of the United States, and he was sent out by his Government to more particularly ascertain the extent of silver production. He came to Aspen with a letter from President Hagerman, of the Mollie Gibson mine. It has leaked out since his departure that the Bank of France would, if desired, establish a branch at Denver; that such a branch might be controlled by a directory composed of Colorado capitalists, the bank simply sending a manager from Paris to represent the parent institution. That they would agree to furnish from fifty to one hundred million dollars, or whatever would be required to carry all the silver produced in Colorado for several years without allowing any to be sold until the price was fully satisfactory. That the rate of interest would not exceed 1 to 1 1/2 per cent. per annum. Propositions could be made at once, as soon as the course of events respecting silver were thoroughly determined in the United States. France has a deep interest in the future of silver, and will be quite willing to enter into an amicable arrangement with the producers of Colorado whereby both parties would receive mutual benefits. It would not be to the interest of France to enter into any arrangement to depress the price of silver, but on the contrary to sustain it at a proper valuation. There are but twenty large smelters in the country, and if a majority of these were to go into the combination a corner on the silver production of the country could be had. Of course France would not be the first to make the proposition, but Mr. Smith says if it should come from the other side it would be accepted within less than one week. From the time France got the silver production of the United States under control she would dictate the price of the metal to England for use in India and compel all the silver-using nations to come to her for money. The scheme finds much favor among such silver producers as our representative has seen, and will no doubt take shape here if Congress fails to give silver men something better than the Sherman law.

As the time draws near for the Democrats to select candidates to represent them in the coming November election, it becomes our duty to endeavor to keep before the party the necessity of selecting only the best available material. Don't forget, amid the pressure of close times, that there is a duty devolving upon you to select men for Senator and Representative that shall be keenly alive to the needs of the people. We want only patriotic and capable men who will see to it that we are not burdened with unjust or expensive laws.

Many men think that newspapermen are dullsters. By the way of comparison, let us suppose that a farmer raised a thousand bushels of wheat a year, and sells this to two thousand persons in all parts of the country a great portion of them saying, "I will hand you a dollar in a short time." Soon the thousand bushels are gone, but he has nothing to show for it, and then he realizes that he has fooled away his whole crop, and its value is due in a thousand little dribbles, consequently he is seriously embarrassed in his business, because his debtors each owing him a dollar, treat it as a small matter and think it would not help much. Continue this kind of business year in and year out as the publisher does, how long will he stand it? A moment's thought will convince any one that a publisher has cause for proud tugging.—National Labor Tribune.

A Couple of Large Deals.

There is a deal on foot to sell to a syndicate the Little Fork Canal Coal lands. The parties desiring to make the purchase are anxious for an investment, and have had a representative here trying to close the deal. The Cold Water Logging and Railroad Company, whose lands lie in Mississippi, have in the past three days, received an offer for their entire stock at a figure that will make the stockholders big money. The price offered for this latter plant is away over one hundred thousand dollars. Wm. Mitchell is President of both these companies. We hope the deals may be consummated.

MCCREARY'S VOICE

Raised in Favor of the Silver Repeal.

Gov. McCreary opened the silver debate in the National House Saturday, speaking in favor of the repeal of the silver purchase law. He said he would not let that act as a hostage for free coinage. Let free coinage stand on its own merits. But this was not the time for the United States to adopt free coinage. The only path which led to the free coinage of silver was an international agreement, and the only way to reach that agreement was the repeal of the purchasing clause of the Sherman act.

Mr. Catchings (Dem.), of Mississippi, followed Mr. McCreary, and declared himself squarely and unhesitatingly in support of the unconditional repeal of the Sherman act. He would vote against any proposition directly or indirectly looking to the free coinage of silver at any rate that could be suggested.

Mr. Catchings did not conclude his speech until nearly 3 o'clock. He was followed by Mr. Livingston, of Georgia, in favor of the free coinage of silver.

The ultra silver men at the capital are criticizing Gov. Osborne, of Wyoming, for his delay in appointing a successor to Senator Beckwith, who recently resigned. As a man appointed from Wyoming would, they believe, be a silver Senator, they hold that Gov. Osborne is showing neglect of free coinage interests by not appointing a man to represent the State in the Senate and to protect the silver measures when that proposition comes up for a vote.

Senator Lindsay has prepared a speech in favor of the unconditional repeal of the purchasing clause of the Sherman act, and will deliver it before the Senate, it is expected, the first of the week. The Kentucky Senator is said to be working hard for the measure among his associates.

The three brothers of John Cudahy, who recently failed at Chicago, will help him out. Collateral to the amount of $839,000 will be put up to secure $750,000, or one-half the indebtedness, payable to be made in two and three years' time. To cover the remaining $750,000 indebtedness the three brothers are themselves to pay $100,000 per annum for five years into the hands of C. L. Hatchinson, President of the Corn Exchange National Bank, as trustee, to be applied on the notes of John Cudahy.

During his speech on the financial question in the Senate to-day Senator Voorhees will, according to the Courier-Journal, read a letter from Secretary Carlisle, in which the latter gives the estimated cost to the Government of a change from the present coinage ratio between gold and silver to the proposed ratio of 20 to 1. In his letter Secretary Carlisle says the estimated cost to be made of coined since 1878 aggregates $419,322,450, and places the cost of re-coining them as follows:

New bullion to be added	$748,000
Cost of alloy and melting	$200,000
Cost of coinage (labor materials, etc.)	$200,000
Transportation of dollars to mints	$200,000
Total	$1,348,000
Less bullion already in circulation	$428,000
Less by abrasion	$125,000
Cost of transporting labor materials, etc.	$200,000
Copper for alloy	$100,000
Total	$815,000

The total cost, therefore, would be $112,866,321.

In this issue will be found the announcement of Mr. J. C. B. Gillespie as a candidate for Sheriff of this county. He informs us that if party works measure a man's politics, he is the best Democrat in the county. Day or night he has never failed to answer the needs of the party. He wants it further understood that he is a runner in full trim for the race. The people of Montgomery county should attend themselves as to the merits of each candidate, and give the best field to the one best qualified for the position.

Yesterday afternoon, whilst Jas. Cline, son of Andrew Cline, was walking at the gas well back of A. A. Baum and Son's, the derrick fell and struck him on the head, hurting him severely. His life was only saved by the heavy timbers falling first on the walking beam of the engine and then the belt before they struck him, thus the belt materially breaking the force of the blow. As it was, he was very seriously hurt. Dr. Jones attended to the injured boy and at last accounts he was resting easy.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY PRIMARY CALLED.

At a meeting of the Democratic Committee, for Montgomery county, held in the County Court room, on Monday August 14, it was ordered that a Primary election be held according to law, for the purpose of electing a Democratic candidate for Superintendent of schools of Montgomery county. It was further ordered that the said election be held on Saturday, September 23, 1893, at the same time and in conjunction with the election for Representative from this Legislative district. Candidates are required to bear the expense of said election, and each candidate is allowed to pay to S. S. Priest, on or before September 3, 1893, the sum of $50, for the purpose of defraying said expenses. Any candidate who fails to make such deposit within the time named, shall not have his name printed on the ballots, and if only one candidate shall have so paid by September 2, 1893, no election shall be held and that candidate shall be declared the nominee of the party. It was also ordered that all persons 21 years of age and above the age of the several precincts to be legal voters therein and Democrats, shall be allowed to vote in said Primary.

A committee adjourned to meet September 9, 1893, for the purpose of selecting officers of election as above called.

"All kind of parasites may be destroyed," says Rural World, "by treating the sheep with the kerosene emulsion. This may be poured along the back of the sheep by parting the wool and guiding it down the sides by the hand thus all parts of the animal are reached. If this be done carefully no more need be applied than will saturate the fleece and cover the skin, and waste will be prevented. Some shepherds do the same by using butter-milk which has the same result of covering the insects with a film of the adhesive milk that suffocates them. As insects breathe through openings in their side called spiracles, which are very small, and oily and adhesive fluid will close these openings and stop the breathing. Either oil or butter-milk will do this."

Southern banks have begun to call upon New York banks for funds, with which to move the crops, and the belief is expressed among bankers of the metropolis that money will eventually be forthcoming, one suggesting that relief may to a great extent be afforded by the use of certified checks.

How easily a lynching might take place even in one of our Northern cities was illustrated in New York Wednesday evening. A man who was wheeling a baby in a baby carriage was beset by a crowd of hoodlums who, to snatch him, raised a shout that he had stolen the child. This attracted a crowd, and his tormentors then cried out that the baby was dead and that the man had killed it. This cry was repeated and the about "lynch him" was being sent forth by many who from their position on the outskirts of the crowd could not see the truth, when the police came up. The officer arrested several of the hoodlums and then had to escort the maligned father to his home.—Portland Transcript.

Manassas County Convention.

In obedience to a call of the Chairman of the Democratic County Committee, the Democracy of Manassas county met at the Court House in Frenchburg, and J. J. Byrne was chosen Chairman and L. T. Hovernal, Secretary.

On motion the following Committee on Resolutions was appointed: Fredrick No. 1, J. H. Williams; No. 2, L. C. Davis; No. 3, Marion Johnson; No. 4, Davis Hamilton; No. 5, James McGraw. Committee reported as follows:

The Committee met in the office of J. B. Lyons, organized by selecting J. H. Williams, Chairman, and L. C. Davis, Secretary.

1. Resolved, That we believe of right; Manassas county is entitled to furnish the next member in the Kentucky Legislature from the district of Montgomery and Manassas, and that we approve of the action of J. J. Byrne, the County Chairman of our County, in securing a primary election to decide who shall be our nominee.

2. Resolved, That we find in the person of W. C. Taylor, a Democrat tried and true, a gentleman of integrity, a citizen of high moral character, a business man of unquestioned ability, a man of the people, and for the interests of the masses and against the classes. Therefore, we recommend him to the Democracy of the Legislative district as a man in every way suitable to represent us in the next General Assembly of the State of Kentucky, and we pledge him our united support in the contest therefor.

An Expensive Egg. Two hundred pounds for an egg, however, is a large sum even for a collector to pay. Yet this appears to be the market price of a perfect specimen of the egg of the gigantic fossil bird, Epyornis. The egg is several times as large as that of the ostrich, but is not otherwise beautiful. But then it is rare, which is not surprising since the Epyornis laid off laying some thousands or perhaps hundreds of thousands of years ago. Mr. Hamelton can get them if any man can, and he promises to put one or two on the European market. He is going back to Madagascar, notwithstanding the fact that having unfortunately got a chief, who was his "blood-brother," killed in his service, he has had to take over all the deceased gentleman's family, including his wives. New Cure for Warts. Two doctors were recently walking together down a suburban thoroughfare, when one of them lifted his hat to a lady who they met.

"A patient?" asked the other.

"Oh, in a way," answered the other doctor. "I treated her the other day for a small trouble."

"What was it?"

"A wart on the nose."

"And what did you prescribe?"

"I ordered her to refrain absolutely from playing on the piano."

The other doctor was astonished.

"Ordered her to leave off playing the piano for a wart on the nose? Well, I can't understand your treatment."

"If you knew the circumstances you would," said the first doctor. "She lives in the next house to me."—Boston Globe.

Good Looks. Good looks are more than skin deep, depending upon a healthy condition of all the vital organs. If the liver be inactive you have a bilious look; if your stomach be disordered you have a dyspeptic look, and if your kidneys be affected you have a pinched look. Secure good health and you will have good looks. Electric Bitters, the great alterative and tonic, acts directly on these vital organs. Cures pimples, blotches, boils and gives a good complexion. Sold at 50c a bottle at W. S. Lloyd's drug store.

Killing homeless dogs and cats is the very latest use to which the scientific Chief of Police at Hartford, Conn. is putting electricity. In the rear of the station house he has had a cage rigged up with electrical connections. The cage is just large enough for a dog to stand in. The fore feet of the animal rests upon an electrode and the hind feet on another. When he is in position an electric current is switched on.

Under The China Tree.

Just across the dusty country road, opposite the station, was the chinatree. It stood in the corner of the bag-fence; its brown limbs were bare save for the great clusters of pale gold berries which they held aloft against the blue sky. Three robins, already half intoxicated by the delicious food, were feasting on berries. The tree, as if by some sudden caprice, had tossed down all at once its yellow leaves; the brown earth welcomed them, and there they lay shining in the sunlight.

She stood beneath the tree, gowned in gray, coarse gray, home-spun, home-dyed; the large hat shading her face was made of shucks, plaited by her long, tapering fingers, which had been wont to wander over the strings of her guitar, while Hugh's lips whispered love's sweet words. Soft hair, black as the eyes so full of splendor, a complexion like the petals of a magnolia, a face whose every feature told of birth or blood, she stood a fluted aristocrat in the rough garb of a plebeian.

Down the railroad she strained her eager eyes, shading them with one small, white hand, while the other, tight clasped, held the letter with the precious words: "I shall be with you Monday." On the other side of the low fence, amid the sawgrass bushes, Marry Dilly, black, fat and jolly, roared her arms on the top rail. "Dey be here pres'ny, honey. I mighty anxious to see my boy and Marse Hugh. I know Isham come if Marse Hugh come; dey'll git 'em a furlough together, dey's so constan'." Dar de train now!

It came nearer; it stopped. Isham stepped out of the baggage car, wearing an old army cap and a gray jacket with red trimmings.

"Howdy, Isham! Howdy! What Marse Hugh?"

"My Gord, Mammy! Is dat you? Is dat Miss Mar'get yander? Oh, Mammy, tek Miss Mar'get back to de house."

"You fool boy! How I gwine tek Miss Mar'get back to de house when Marse Hugh comin' home?"

Men were lowering something from the baggage car; Isham ran through a rain of tears, and taking of his cap, said with bowed head: "Marse Hugh—done—done come home—to stay, Mammy—wid a bullet in his breast."

A gray heap lay under the chinatree, a face still and pallid amid the yellow leaves shining in the sunlight.—Blue and Gray.

World's Fair Rates. At a meeting of the Central Traffic Association, held in Chicago August 10, a resolution was adopted abolishing the low rate fifteen-day ticket. In conformity with this resolution the Chicago and Ohio River lines have notified the southern lines that they would not accept this low rate ticket after August 21. This will put the World's Fair rates back to the original basis at which they were started and those who wish to avail themselves of the fifteen-day ticket at the present low rate, will have to buy their tickets before August 21.

HORSE AND TRACK.

The sire of Walter E. 2:10, stands in Missouri at a fee of $25.

M. Salisbury paid out $4,500 in entrance at the Buffalo meeting.

Falls (2) by Allerton cut her record to 2:24, at Grand Rapids, last week.

B. F. Herriot gave his green pacer a mile last week at Fair Track, 2:17.

In the hands of the truly great driver, the reins are mightier than the whip.

Alvin, 2:11, is probably the fastest horse of his weight that the turf has known.

Walter E. won the free-for-all trot at Rochester, and Hal Painter the free-for-all pace.

Silicon is not in racing form yet. When she is it will take something faster than 2:15 to beat her.

It is said that the erratic little three-year-old William Penn, 2:18, trotted a mile in 2:12 before he was sent on to Buffalo.

Arlon, 2:10, is said to be in fine form. He will probably start in the Spirit of the Times $11,000 stakes at Washington Park.

The Pale Alto stallion, Electricity, 2:17, by Electioneer out of the dam of Jay-Eye-See, 2:10, is among the animals at that form to be sold this fall.

A fire occurred at the Village Farm stables during the progress of the races at Buffalo, destroying property valued at $10,000. No horses were burned.

Nelson has reduced his record to 2:09, in a trip against him at Rigby Park, Portland, Me., last Saturday. The fractional time for the mile is as follows: 33, 31, 31, 33.

Bud Dobbie is reported to have said at the conclusion of Nancy Han's performance today as lowering her record. It tells me plainer than words that she can beat 2:04 and beat it easily.

St. Clair & Curry, of Lexington, Ky., have sold their stallion, Darknight, by Alcyon, to Mr. Chris Schaefer, of Düsseldorf, Germany, for $24,000. Darknight has three 3-year-olds that have beaten 2:15.

The speed limit of the Chimes gilly Fantasy, 2:13, will probably remain unknown until she meets Jay Hawker 2:14, a colt that may be unable to beat her, but that nevertheless will force her to demonstrate about how fast she can go.

The age trotting records of the year to date are: Yearling, Buffington, 2:04; by Sahle Wilkes, 2:18; two-year-old Axentia, 2:21; by Axial, 2:12; three-year-old, Fantasy, 2:13; by Chimes; four-year-old, Belleflower 2:12; by Electioneer; five-year-old, Hilda, 2:08; by Wilkes, 2:15. All are race records.

One of the features of this season on the trotting turf is the large fields. No matter how small the purses have been the fields have been unexcelled. At Syracuse, N. Y., recently fifteen started in one race, and in two other races there were sixteen starters in each. At Johnstown, Pa., recently in the 2:27 pacing class eighteen came up for the word, and fields of ten and over have been quite common. But the climax was attained at the Sturgis, Mich., meeting in the 2:30 class when twenty started, and strange to say none were distanced in the first heat. At the same place fourteen started in the 2:24 class.

The most remarkable three-year-old out this season, if we except Jay Hawker, 2:14, is Fantasy, by Chimes. Her limit is doubtful after winning her race at Buffalo last week in 2:15, 2:14, 2:15, as it was before, for the Chimes filly won with as little effort as it has required to win all her other races. Fantasy is a large, long-bodied, big-gaited mare and does not seem to know what it is to break. She is Chimes' first 2:15 performer. Evidence is steadily accumulating to show that in this young son of Electioneer Mr. Hamlin has one of the greatest of living sires.

It perhaps indicates much to the student of the breeding problem that those good two-year-olds, Director, Flower, 2:22, Falls, 2:24, and M. Lady, 2:26, are all out of dams that were developed, raced and given records faster than 2:30 before they were bred. A few years ago, before any considerable number of developed mares had been given a chance to demonstrate their producing power, the opponents of the development theory used to argue that developed mares were not successful as producers of speed. Now that the youngsters on the turf are beginning to appear on the turf, the testimony of their worth as producers is apparent to all.

Trustees of schools in this county will please bring in a list of all the books needed for poor children in their respective districts, that said books may be furnished said children. Get this list ready by the first Saturday in September.

LAND STOCK AND CROP.

Last week Mr. W. D. Watts sold to D. W. Harty sixty-four 1,500 lb. nice cattle at 4 cents a pound.—Lexington Gazette.

Nelson P. and Wm. Gav. of Clark county, sold yesterday to Byrd Kidd, G. head of cattle at $4.25. J. Nelson Nelson sold 24 head to same party at $4.25.

The Reporter says that the peach crop of Putnam county is large and fine. The local price is but $1 to $1.50, per bushel, while those who ship get $2.

W. P. Ruble, of Garrard county, says he can make money raising wheat at 50 cents per bushel and will put in 200 acres this fall.—Interior Journal.

A plague of grasshoppers is afflicting an agricultural district near Chavon, Tennessee. The ravages of the insects are confined to the clover and corn fields and much damage has been done. Men, women and children are fighting the pests by marching in solid phalanx across the fields.

A Slow Road.

The builders of the railroad between Jaffa and Jerusalem evidently thought it would not do to surprise the natives with too much civilization and progress at one time. Otherwise it would be hard to understand why it should take between four and six hours for a train to make the journey between the two cities, a distance of but 54 miles, with but five intermediate stations. The right service is to be so slow that the merchants are reverting to the old system of forwarding their shipments by camels. The rolling stock evidently needs lubricating with a little Yankee push.—Manufacturers' Gazette.

Leves.

The drouth has cut the corn crop at least one-third in this section.

There won't be over half a crop of tobacco raised in this section, and that will be inferior.

Rev. H. L. Watts preached at Macedonia church on Saturday and Sunday last. He asked a rest of two months on account of his health. Rev. Z. W. Pigg will fill his appointments for him during that time.

We have noted lately that goods are being shipped from Mt. Sterling to Clay City by wagon. It seems that Mt. Sterling is reclaiming some of the trade that she had lost on the completion of the K. U. Railroad to that place.

The files have been so bad this summer that Jerry Hadden's cattle would go to the creek and lay down in the water like hogs, with only their necks and heads out of the water.

Miss Mamie McKinney, of Spout Springs, Ky., while on the road to see her sister, Mrs. Alice Hedlin, near this place, was thrown from her horse and seriously hurt, on Saturday.

Arab Horsemanship.

The Arab, when he is a horseman, is a superb one, even though he does not come within our canon of the art. When the horse is only the means of transportation, or a beast of burden the Arab is no better than his ilk elsewhere. When, as in the desert his horse is his pet, his companion, his dream by day and night, the Arab is in a sense incomparable. No master is more kind. No dog is more intelligent than the dark, liquid-eyed steed he has bred and trained, whose ancestors, for hundreds of generations back, his ancestors have loved and trusted. The horse would that we human beings had not been civilized out of so many of our animal qualities would follow him day and night. He would fret out his soul at being hitched to a post, and his master would scorn to tie him. He will stand immovable in the midst of danger and fright which would make a civilized horse frantic. He will carry his master through fire and water. He will stand over his disabled lord till he arrives. He will undisturbedly face wounds and death, so long as the hand that has fed him is placed upon his neck. He will kneel for him to mount, and will bear him bravely to his home. If he falls a sacrifice of devotion at the door of his master's tent. These are not always fables. The horse, treated as he should be generation after generation, develops a race intelligence, and has as noble an affection as the dog. But, as above said, even in Arabia this noble animal is not of great price. Thrice happy the caliph who truly claims to own one.—Harper's Magazine.

Louisville Tobacco Market.

Sales on our market for the week just closed amount to 1,890 hhds, with receipts for the same period of 1,073 hhds. Sales on our market since January 1, amount to 85,331 hhds. Sales of the crop of 1892 on our market amount to 88,351 hhds.

The market this week has been without any special features to note. The only change being a little lower grade of values for the very common grades of burley such as are selling under $6 per hundred.

The money conditions continue very much strained throughout the whole country, and it is by no means likely that any permanent improvement will be realized in prices of tobacco until financial conditions improve.

The following quotations fairly represent our market for burley tobacco. (1892 crop)

Trash. (Dark damaged tobacco $3.50 to $4.25
Common colory trash, $4.50 to $5.50
Medium to good colory trash, $6 to $8.
Common lugs, not colory, $4.50 to $6.
Common colory lugs, $6 to $7.50.
Medium to good colory lugs, $7.50 to $8.50.
Common to medium leaf $7.50 to $9.
Medium to good leaf, $9 to $11.
Good, to fine leaf, $11 to $15.
Select wrappery styles, $15 to $25.

MONEY MATTERS.

ARE always a topic that interests. Its a topic that puts all good people to thinking, and generally takes lots of hustle to keep on top with them. Money is hard to get and harder to save, but there are ways and ways to do a thing. One piece of folly is to pay rent forever. There is a better way to live and have a home. Go to Baird & Winn and borrow the money on easy terms and easy payments. Buy the house and let them insure it against fire and tornado, and then have them insure your life, so that grim death's coming won't leave your wife and children penniless. For selling and buying anything in the way of real estate or stock's and bonds, go to BAIRD & WINN.

Do you want to make a safe investment? If so, put your money in the NATIONAL HOME Building and Loan Association.
